

Day 2 on Lemosho Route

MyTinerary for today

Everything you need to know:

Along the Route...

Even though the second day is only 4-5 hours of walking, you will be on the trail much longer as the climb is steep today and you will take many breaks.

Once you reach the first major ridge, the forest disappears behind you as you enter the moorland with its giant heathers and work your way up towards the Shira Plateau through the lush rolling hills.

After lunch, the path flattens out as you approach the Shira Plateau at 3612 m (11840 ft). Here you can see a glimpse of the Kibo Plateau.

It is mostly downhill from here to your camp at Shira I.

Many climbers feel this is their favorite day of the trek. Although strenuous, the views make it worthwhile!

MyTinerary MyMaps

Section for Today

Day 4

AT A GLANCE

Early Morning wake up at Big Tree Camp (with a "Washie Washie" and Tea)

Have Breakfast and head out, stopping for breaks and lunch along route.

Hike to camp Shira I:
elevation - 3480 m/11420 ft

Spend time resting before dinner.

Mountain Day 2 Stats:

- Walking distance: 8 km/5 mi
- Walking time: 4-5 hours
- Altitude gain: 830 m/2725 ft
- Sleeping Elevation: 3480 m/11420 ft